DETAILED ACTION

Change of Examiner

1. Note the change of Examiner in the present application. The Art Unit number remains the same.

Response to Amendment

2. The Response of May 27, 2004 added new claims 39-44. Accordingly, the claims now pending are claims 1, 2, 7-14, 24-27 and 38-44.

3. Nonelected claims 14 and 25-27 have been rejoined with the elected invention. Accordingly, an action on the merits of all pending claims follows.

4. In view of the amendments and arguments presented in the Response, all the rejections of record have been overcome. Upon conducting a search in STN/CAS, the following new grounds of rejection are, however, seen necessitated.

Obviousness-type Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 12-14, 24-27 and 39-44 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 17 and 27 of copending Application No. 10/004645. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of both applications use the same compounds in the same hosts to treat overlapping conditions. Note, for example, the treatment of ischemic conditions in both sets of claims. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

8. Claims 1, 7, 11 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b or e) as being anticipated by any of Green et al. (PN 6,693,108), the Davis et al. patents (PN 6,114,333 and 6,552,029) and the Torley et al. patents (PN 4,788,195 and 4,876,252). The Torley patents are of record on a Form PTO-1449. See the corresponding STN/CAS printouts for the specific compounds under the present claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 1, 2, 7-14, 24-27, and 38-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over any of the Green et al., Davis et al. and Torley et al. patents applied above. Where not anticipated, one would be motivated to prepare the present compounds from within the generic teachings of the references and/or to prepare the simple alkyl homologs, halo analogs and position isomers of the specific compounds of the references with the reasonable expectation of obtaining additional compounds useful for the uses in the references. In the absence of a showing of unexpected properties, no patentable significance is seen in the present selection. Common utility also appears to be involved.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Conclusion

12. The Forms 1449 of record are re-supplied with corrected classification and/or lines through the classification boxes. It is also requested that the dates for literature references CH and DD be provided.

13. In view of the new grounds of rejection above, this action is not made final.
